

Ednita Nazario comes to Tropicana

TROPICANA SHOWROOM // 8 P.M. SATURDAY, MARCH 10

WHO IS SHE: Nazario is a Puerto Rican pop singer, who began her career as a childhood sensation with songs like “Mi Amor Lolipop” at age 6. She made her radio debut when she was only 11. Now 62, Nazario has kept up her vivacious career with albums like “Fuerza De Gravedad” and “Corazon.” She has been nominated for several Billboard Latin Music Awards and Latin Grammy’s, as well as received the 2004 Latin Heritage Award from ASCAP.

WHAT TO EXPECT: With a career that spans decades and with over 28 albums to her name, Nazario will surely have plenty of material to pull from when she hits the stage at Tropicana. Hits like “Lo que son las cosas,” “Quiero que me hagas el amor” and “A que no le cuentas” are sure to please Nazario’s fans.
